

HFMA's 2010 Annual School Supplies Drive

HFMA is partnering with the Flower City Habitat for Humanity to provide scientific calculators and backpacks for the children who live in Habitat homes. Each year, city middle and high school students have a great need for these items, but they go without, so we are targeting them in particular.

Pens, pencils, folders, composition notebooks, loose leaf paper, erasers, and 3-ring binders will also be accepted but the greatest need is for calculators and backpacks.

We will be collecting new school supplies from August 2nd to August 13th.
